DUBBED the "drunk" camera" by professional photographers, the new Lytro camera lets you adjust the focus after a picture is taken. The Lytro fits in a pocket and uses sensors to capture much more light than conventional cameras. Click on a Lytro picture and you can shift the focal point from foreground to background.

FUTRA IAPARTMENT: From $499,000

How about an Apartment to go with your iPad? The Futra apartments in Sydney's Mascot use an iPad as master controller for the lighting, blinds, TV and sound system. Entry is controlled by a fingerprint scan and room temperatures sort themselves out automatically depending on Sydney's weather.

MY BOOK LIVE DUO: From $499

Keep your digital treasures such as home movies and pics locked up tight inside the My Book Live Duo. This dual-drive network storage box can be had with either four or six terabytes of storage and plugs into the home router. The contents can be viewed anywhere in the world there is internet connectivity.

MOTOROLA RAZR HD. Telstra $60 a month plan plus $5 handset charge.

Here's a handset that stretches the line between smartphones and small tablets. The Motorola RAZR HD sports a big 4.7-inch screen with dense 1280 by 768 pixel resolution that should be great for movies, games and e-books. A large 2500 mAh battery provides plenty of juice.

DIGITAL PASS $1 for the first 28 days.
